Introduction

The Semana Digital del Español is organized by FEDELE, the Federation of Spanish Schools as a Foreign Language, and its centers; carrying out five days of ELE training, learning and debate.

This event is designed so that institutions, organizations, students, teachers and ELE professionals from all over the world can meet digitally and openly, at no cost and without the need to register.

However, we put at the disposal of all those who wish it the current document with information of the conferences, access to the emissions and important tools so you can enjoy every conference and what the Federation can offer you.

Do you want to meet our federated centers?

We have prepared a document with all our federated centers with commercial offers, information, facilities and locations.

Debate on the current situation of the sector

On this day, FEDELE and its regional associations will meet with public and private personalities who influence our sector: both in ELE teaching in Spain and in Language Tourism, where our centers play a crucial role.

In the first part of the conference, the FEDELE Managing Board will work for one hour on three issues:

What is the current situation of the sector? - Vision 2015 to 2020

What are the challenges we have to face in this moment?

How do you think the sector's strategy should be structured?

Subsequently, each regional association will meet with those organizations or entities with influence in their respective territories.

We will talk with those responsible for the studies of Spanish in Spain and Language Tourism. We will set the basis for the Strategic Plan for Language Tourism in Spain.

ELE Professionals: How to participate?

This training day is free for all the ELE professionals who wish to attend it and there are two modalities of participation:

- Viewers: You will be able to watch it through Youtube, social networks and our website. No registration is required and there will be no limit to the number of viewers. In this modality, FEDELE cannot accredit the participation of any ELE professional, but we assure the promotion of the course to any profile in the world.
- Registered: Those professionals who wish to receive an accreditation of their participation in the sessions will be able to do it thanks to the previous registration, where we will be able to control their attendance. These professionals will have access to the Zoom platform, where they have the possibility to ask questions and enter the debates. Registration is free and preferential to professionals from federated centers.

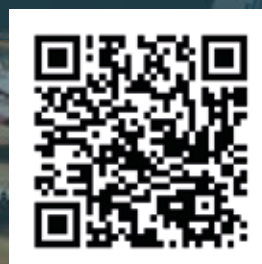

Click here to enter the session: bit.ly/semanadigital_inscripcion

Preferential registration will be open from October 1st to November 15th for federated centers. After this date registrations will be attended in order of arrival without preference.

Two simultaneous sessions

On our website you have the two sessions available for you to connect to the one you are interested in at the right time. Do you have two overlapping sessions? Don't worry, you'll be able to see the sessions again.

Support Dossier and tools

In recent months, FEDELE has been preparing documentation to support all the ELE centers in Spain, creating the Platform of ELE centers affected by the COVID-19.

Within all the actions carried out, we developed a document where we gathered tools and applications that can be used in the ELE classroom.

This document is now available to all teachers participating in the Semana Digital del Español at the following link:
